tone & contents

Goal: To present the show in the most impactful way, communicating the show's core values and key messages.

It should have an international trailer style and feel, and express the quality of the production, without begin too wordy or with too much dialogue.

The trailer should be sophisticated and convey the production value of the series while at the same time focusing on the 1950s zeitgeist and historical aspects (German Economic Miracle) of the story, from a female point of view.

1950s, cool/cold, mysterious, East-West spy thriller.

Sophisticated, high-class, intellectual.

Importance of the emancipation of women and their active participation in post-war society.

SHORT SYNOPSIS

BONN is a six-part political spy thriller which recounts the rise of Germany's Federal Republic after the terror of World War II. It focuses on a young woman who struggles to find her own place in a male-dominated society in the 1950s and the political tug-of-war between Germany's two rivaling intelligence services.
